Clinical Rationale for Integrating Digital Workflows
Into Everyday Practice
Presented by: Edward R. Schlissel, DDS, MS

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION:
This program will discuss the benefits of CAD/CAM abutments for the fabrication of patient specific implant-supported restorations. Benefits and limitations of scanners currently available will be discussed, along with design principles used in CAD/CAM abutment design. This program will educate and motivate attendees to take advantage of today's implant technologies in the dental practice.

PROGRAM OBJECTIVES:
At the end of the program, the participant should be able to:
- Develop a strategy to utilize new technologies for more predictable patient outcomes.
- Learn how to provide treatment based upon the patient’s needs while reducing chairtime and achieving enhanced aesthetic outcomes.
- Understand the time savings associated with intraoral scanning versus conventional impressions.
- Train dental assistants to scan healing abutments accurately.
